AFTER GOOD ROADS.

LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

To Flood West Virginia With an Avalanche of "Good Roads" Literature Next Fall-Labor Interests Will Probably Favor the Movement to Employ Convicts on the Highways. Past Legislation.

The movement for good roads is fast becoming one of the most important and wide-spread of the reform endeavors of the day in this country, and this year it will extend to West Virginia, under the auspices of the League of American Wheelmen, the organization which has been foremost in urging upon legislators, both state and national, the importance of bringing up the standard of American highways to that of civilized countries in Europe. The convict phase will enter largely into the movement in West Virginia, and it is possible that the labor interests will favor this form of employment of the state's large and growing army of criminals. It is said labor will prefer to have this done rather than have the to have the done rather than have the prisoners at the pentiontiary in Mounda-ville employed at work that comes in composition with the laboring man. A sign of the times is the recent protest of the Ohio Valley Trades and Labor Assembly against the establishment of a plant at the pen to manufacture hollow ware.

sembly against the establishment of a plant at the pen to manufacture hollow ware.

As soon as the new legislature is chosen the L. A. W. will flood the state with an avalanche of "good roads" literature in an endeavor to create a public sentiment in favor of an organized movement to replace the poor excuses for roads in West Virginia by substantially built roads, constructed on modern and approved principles. In the last legislature a highway bill was introduced by Mr. Edwards, of Kanawha, but it was not reached before adjournment. Next winter the advocates of good roads hope for better success. Several years ago a road bill was introduced in the legislature by an Upshur member, Mr. Newlon, but before passed it was so encumbered with amendments that the member who introduced it, opposed its passage. The bill provided for the employment of the convicts on the roads, but no provision that the county in which the road is to be constructed shall pay for the guard, food, and raiment of the convicts. As was stated to the committee from the trades assembly when they waited on the board of penitentiary commissioners several weeks ago, not a single application for convicts has been made.

A prominent labor leader when seen yesterday said that he was in favor of the employment of the convicts on the roads, and it is possible a resolution to that effect will be introduced at the meeting of citizens soon to be called to protest again against the hollow ware

It was Palm Sunday, and it has been years since that day came so early, or since it fell on such a lovely day.

The usual results of the advent of spring were to be noted. Most people had a touch of spring fover. All the wheelmen seemed to be out, and the streets were througed with promenaders and with all serts of vehicles.

The Elm Grove road brought out its open summer cars for the first time this season, and they were very popular. There was a big rush to the country. The hourly trains were well filled all day. Mozart Park incline was also very well patronized.

AFTER FOURTH PLACE, Three Teams After It-The Games Played

Saturday.

The Calument and Intelligencer bowling teams played two games at Selbert's alleys Saturday evening and parted even, both winning and losing one game. The fight for fourth place is now second only in interest with the contest for first place, and it looks as though the W. A. W. team might tie the In-telligereers for the place. All depends on the outcome of next week's games. STANDING OF CLUBS.

In the first game both teams were in the fight, first one and then the other leading for six frames, when the intel-ligencer boys broke badly and were not in the lead after that. Had they finished strong, however, they could easily have won. Rhees, Truschel, M. Lang and the two "Blinds" made the best individual

In the second contest the Intelligencer boys led for four frames and then were passed by their opponents who held the pole up to the eighth frame when they were one pin aboad. It was in the ninth and tenth that the Intelligencer team players finished-strong and won by eighty points. Rhees made the banner score of the game and evening 284. But for a bad break at the finish he would have made a perfect score. Score would have made a perfect score. Score in detail:

THE SKATING RACE. Arrangements For a Big Crowd-Hanke's

The roller skating race between E. F. Hauke and E. C. McClelland next Thursday at the North End-rink promises to be a hotly contested one. men are hard at work training, and are skating very fast. The rink people are making very isse. The people are making arrangements to accommodate 1,300 people. Hanke gives the follow-ing sketch of his career as a roller skater: "I began skating in 1835 at the North End rink, and seeing that I could make

"I began skating in 1835 at the North End rink, and seeing that I could make a fast skater by having proper training, I wont to Pittsburgh, where I joined Al. Smith; he first took me to Canton, where we remained three months. While in Canton I defeated several topnotchers, including John J. Beil. In Cleveland I was matched against W. Mathews and T. Grooks to skate a three mile race for the championship of America, best two out of three, for a purse of $500 and a beft. I won two straight races, making the fast time of 8 minutes and 42 seconds for three miles. In Boston I catered the three and five mile sorics, winning both, skating fivemiles in 15:47 in the largest rink in the world, six laps to the mile. From Boston we went to Montreal and all over Canada, skating all the best skaters. The best man I over skated is John J. Bell, of Cleveland. Mr. Bell and I skated the finest race that was over skated in 1886, skating fat the Alhambra Rink in 1886, skating at the Alhambra Rink in 1886, skating to miles in 1886, skating to miles in 1886, skating the miles in this city, at the Alhambra Rink in 1886, skating five miles in

John J. Bell, of Clevoland. Mr. Bell and I skated the finest race that was over skated in this city, at the Alhambra Rink in 1886, skating five miles in 16 minutes, which is wonderful time in that rink. We were not over two yards apart through the whole race.

"In regard to my race with McClelland noxt. Thursday, I think I will win. I have not skated for three years although I am in first-class condition to skate a fast race. This is a bona fide affair and the best man will win, and I will promise one of the finest and fastest races ever skated here. The proprietors of the rink have put in a fine skating surface, as fine as any I ever skated on. Al. Smith also authorizes me to challenge any skater to skate a three mile race for $500 and up, a large rink to skate the race on to be selected; national roller skating rules to govern. McClelland received his new racers on Friday, and immediately tested them, and after skating for three hours it was all his trainer could do to make him quit. McClelland stated that this would probably be his last race on the rollers and he will use every effort to win the race and show his many friends that he can skate just as fast, if not faster than he has done at any time in his long career.

Senator Charles M. Hogg has had passed by the Ohio senate a bill that is remarkable for its brevity and its purpose. It provides "that no treasurer of any county, township or municipal corporation should be eligible to the office of president, director, or be a salaried employee of any banking institution." The treasurer of Pease townshippis Mr. Fox, of the Dollar Savings bank, of Bridgeport, and the two candidates here are both connected with the banks, and this may be the situation in a hundred or more other localities. It is very remarkable that Senator Hogg should single out a class of citizens whose ability and integrity is given the highest recognition in private affairs and attempt to legislate against them in public affairs.
